

HEALING HEARTS. BUILDING HOPE.

Camp Good Grief

- Peer support camp in the summer open to any child ages 8-13 who has experienced the death of someone significant in their lives.
- Participation is open to a wider range than solely Erin's House program families.
- There is no cost to attend camp.

Camp Good Grief encourage and promote healing after experiencing a death. The day will be filled with games, crafts, swimming, water activities, team-building activities, and more!

A pre-camp informational meeting is REQUIRED for all families. The informational meeting will be for the adults who registered their campers, plus the campers.

Registration for Camp Good Grief will close when a maximum of 45 campers have been registered.
